Monthly Report & Outlook | February 2026

From the Chief Investment Officer's Desk

Market Overview

In February, Indian equities showed a mixed but improving trend. While large caps were slightly weaker, the broader market strengthened. Mid-and small-caps outperformed, with the Nifty Midcap 100 up 1.2%, the Nifty Small Cap 250 up 0.7%, and the Nifty 500 up 0.4%, reversing much of January's broad decline. The key event was a sharp correction in the IT sector, where the five major IT companies fell 15–22% during the month, after Anthropic's launch of Claude Cowork which raised concerns about faster-than-expected AI disruption in global SaaS models. Despite this sector-specific shock, overall market breadth improved, reflecting a healthier risk environment.

The RBI's MPC kept policy rates unchanged but emphasized its commitment to proactive liquidity management. During the month, the government released a new CPI series based on the 2023–24 Household Consumption Expenditure Survey, reducing the weight of food and beverages while increasing the share of housing. A new GDP base year was also introduced, incorporating double deflators for agriculture and manufacturing to better reflect price dynamics. As part of these revisions, FY26 GDP growth was revised upwards from 7.4% to 7.6%, while FY24 GDP was revised downwards by 2% to 7.2%. The combined impact of these methodological changes lowered the absolute GDP estimate for FY26 from ₹357 trillion to ₹345 trillion.

In terms of global equity indices, major gains were seen in KOSPI (+20%), Nikkei (+9%) and Brazil (+7%). MSCI EM and MSCI World delivered +5.4% and +0.6% returns, respectively. (All returns in USD)

Fixed Income

Sovereign bond yields across the globe softened on risk-off behaviour amid sharp downturn in the technology sector and softer economic and price data. In India, 10Y IGB yields hardened despite measures by RBI on management of liquidity due to persistent pressure from higher bond supply.

Currency Markets

The US Dollar Index (DXY) traded in a tight range between 96.3 - 98.1, before settling at 97.6. The dollar strengthened on rising expectation of military action against Iran. The Indian Rupee (INR) appreciated by ~1.1% during the month against the USD, ending February at 90.98/USD. The INR has declined ~1.2% on a YTD basis, impacted by elevated geopolitical tensions.

Commodities

Precious metals, which fell sharply on the last day of the previous month, partly recovered during the month on elevated geopolitical tension. The expectation of military action in middle east added steam to the prices of natural gas and crude oil. Looking ahead, structural tailwinds from electrification and energy transition, suggest continued opportunities in base and precious metals, though investors should remain mindful of volatility and adopt staggered entry strategies.

Flows & sectoral performance

DII's remained net buyers (~₹38,423 Cr), while FII's sold off (~₹6,641 Cr). Sectors outperforming benchmark: PSU Bank (+9%), Healthcare (+8%) Sectors underperforming benchmark: IT (-19%), Realty (-0.3%).

Fund Performance

Over the 5-year period ending February 2026:
 - Equity & Growth Funds: Annualized returns of 10–23%
 - Balanced & Bond Funds: Annualized returns of 5–11%
(Refer to annexures for detailed fund-wise performance.)

Fixed Income Outlook

India's macroeconomic fundamentals remain resilient despite elevated bond yields, supported by ongoing liquidity measures and proactive policy interventions that continue to anchor growth momentum. Pressures from a weaker currency, limited fiscal headroom, and heightened geopolitical risks underscore the need for a flexible, research-driven investment approach.

Equity Outlook

Nifty is currently trading near its long-term historical average of approximately 20x FY27E earnings. Given improving market breadth, narrowing FII outflows, near term policy certainty and modest earnings of corporates in Q3, continue to prefer large-cap stocks and sectors with strong fundamentals and clear earnings visibility. Additionally, any material development in the middle east will be a key monitorable.
